

Opening – an opportunity supporting your potential is available now. What Area of Life are you currently focused on? It is relevant to that.

Your next step:

It's an opportunity; you can take it, or leave it ... either way, when you are ready, the opportunity will come around again if it is still relevant. Yet, life can seem short at times, so if it is just some low tone emotional reaction to change, or the unknown, in the way of you taking advantage of this opportunity, then release the emotion and GO FOR IT!

If you are simply distracting yourself with emotional drama, the need to keep yourself entertained, or busy ... then you may miss it and never know the difference. Ho hum ... it is only an opportunity for you to get to know your Self, your Consciousness ... your Sovereignty ... just that little better. An opportunity comes with encouragement from your Higher Mind, your Consciousness and is – delivered as per the consciously, or unconsciously, chosen meaning you have decided on for your life.

Marianne Thorne
CreativeGoalSetting.com