

Defence – to take action against an external threat to prevent confrontation; for the Highest Good of all concerned.

Your next step:

It is time for doing right actions. To do what is needed to secure your home and make arrangements for your continued physical, emotional, and mental well being, and that of any dependants.

You are being reminded to take care of physical aspects of your body, home and environment by creating a lifestyle and home that provides for your long term live-ability. There is no need to cause any harm to others or be alarmed as your Higher Mind provides you with inspirations that include the Highest Good of all concerned. Yet it is a suggestion, translated to these modern times, that you have food, clothing and shelter arranged beyond any reliance on money, governing systems, or infrastructure that could fail. Your physical well being, at the end of any day, is your responsibility, not the responsibility of other people or organisations.

It is time for you to step up your personal responsibility.
